Town plans special meeting on expansion

Councillors R. G. Wheatley and R. A. Russell both expressed concern at Monday night's council meeting, over the effects of the expected growth of St. Albert — both in size and population — although their suggested plans for dealing with the subject differed.

Councillor Wheatley introduced a motion to the effect that council should at this time authorize a municipal consultant to undertake a study of the advantages and disadvantages of enlargement of the town's boundaries.

He questioned the validity of an earlier Edmonton Regional Planning Commission report which had set the optimum size of St. Albert at 30,000 population.

"Maybe we'll find it will bankrupt us to have 20,000 population," he stated.

Councillor Russell expressed the view that a special meeting of council designed to review the town's over-all development plans, in light of the announcement that St. Albert would be the site of the new university, should be held first.

In reply to this suggestion, Mayor Ray Gibbon announced that he intended to call such a meeting as soon as the location of the university was known.

Council voted 5 to 2 in favor of Councillor Wheatley's motion being tabled to a special meeting of council which would deal exclusively with development plans for the town.

Still on the topic of enlarging the boundaries of St. Albert, Councillor John de Bruijn questioned whether consideration had ever been given to St. Albert amalgamating with the Municipal District of Sturgeon, to form a county with both rural and urban residents.

At the Mayor's suggestion, Councillor de Bruijn agreed to bring up the matter with the Municipal District of Sturgeon at a scheduled meeting in the near future.

Councillor de Bruijn also questioned the town's practice of extended borrowing at high interest rates when large sums existed in unexpended debenture funds. Councillor Wheatley pointed out that there was some question of whether these funds could be appropriated.

Council agreed to refer the matter to finance committees.

Council seeking lower water rates

Council has decided to adopt a "together-we-stand" policy with regard to having the 35 per cent surcharge on water rates levied by the City of Edmonton lowered.

Councillor R. G. Wheatley gained unanimous support from council Monday for his motion that the secretary-treasurer be directed to write letters to all municipalities who now obtain or will be obtaining water from Edmonton, inquiring as to their interest in making a joint approach to the city and/or the public utilities board with respect to a reduction in water rates.

This decision was reached after preliminary discussion as to the feasibility of St. Albert establishing its own water supply.

"This would require a substantial amount of money for test drilling," said Town Engineer J. Maandag, "and then we'd have to look at whether or not it would be feasible."

"In the meantime, we're stuck with the water supply we've got," said Councillor Frank Lukay, "and we should make the best deal we can with the City of Edmonton."

PC policy meet this week

About 175 delegates are expected to attend the provincial Progressive Conservative policy conference in Red Deer March 13 - 15.

Calgary businessman David Jenkins, chairman of the conference organizing committee, reports the purpose of the conference is "to produce the policies that will form the basis of the Progressive Conservative platform for the next provincial general election."

Policies will be declared on 10 important issues: public expenditure priorities, taxation, education, attraction and decentralization of industry, preservation of environment, housing, agriculture, welfare and poverty, health facilities and local government.

Constituencies will each appoint two delegates and two alternatives, the Women's Association five, Student's Federation 10, and the Young Conservatives 10. All candidates nominated or declared will be delegates. Also attending will be MLAs, special guests and provincial party executives.

Mr. Jenkins emphasizes the conference will be free of speeches, taking the form of a working, participating type of conference.

"Background and position papers on all of the issues will be mailed to delegates in advance so that they will be prepared for discussion at the conference."

Other members of the organizing committee are Dr. Harvey Andre of the University of Calgary and Ron Brimacombe, a Calgary stockbroker.

Hospital Auxiliary report

A tea will be held in the St. Albert Community Hall on April 15 between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m. to raise funds. Free baby sitting service will be available for the mothers with youngsters. Advance tickets will be sold.

The April 15 meeting will be held in the Marlville Recreation Centre. All ladies residing in the Municipal District of Sturgeon are invited to attend the meeting to meet the members of the executive.

District 6

meets tonight

The St. Albert Protestant Separate School District will hold its annual meeting in Sir George Simpson Junior High School at 7:30 tonight, Wednesday, March 11.

On the agenda will be the chairman's report, superintendent's report and the financial statement. Elmer S. Gish, the district's new superintendent, will also be introduced.

Other business that will come up for discussion will be the New School Act and the Foundation Program grants, family life education and the parents advisory committee.

CARNIVAL QUEEN HEATHER TOMLINSON
...crowned by Mrs. Shirley Chyzowski

Heather Tomlinson queen of carnival

Thirteen-year-old Heather Tomlinson was crowned queen of the St. Albert Figure Skating Club's annual winter carnival on Saturday night, an event that was a solid success despite the frostiness of the weather.

Spectators surrounded the rink four-deep to watch the crowning and the ice show that followed and most stuck out the evening, although many took in the latter part of the show from the comfort of car or skate shack.

Heather was crowned by Mrs. Shirley Chyzowski, president of the figure skating club. She was also presented with a trophy and a bouquet of flowers courtesy of Grandin Flowers Ltd.

Heather, a Grade 8 student at Sir Alexander Mackenzie School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Tomlinson of 13 Sylvan Drive.

Others competing in the queen contest were Susan Jewitt, Cindy Reinhold, Debbie Reinhold, Alice Bois, Betty Kramps, Debbie Rutledge, Donna Wilson and Susan Pavelich.

Bobby Ruda of the parks and recreation department, light switcher John Govanlock, David Paul who made and ran the tapes for the program, and Liz Bowen, Barb Husband, Donna Wilson and Debbie and Cindy Reinhold for their work on the routines.

She also thanked the many parents who helped, the mothers who had given freely of their time to make costumes and the fathers who had acted as chauffeurs.

The ice show was entitled

Babes in Toyland and featured guest skaters Bruce Hatch of Edmonton and Debbie Paul of St. Albert and a supporting cast from the St. Albert Club.

In between the scenes Robert Pavelich and Scott Chyzowski took turns being clowns. Before the finale, Bruce Hatch appeared in a girl's costume and did a clown act accompanied by Scott, Robert and Susan Pavelich. Bruce is apparently going to turn professional next season.

Skate-a-thon nets 3,985.33

The Skate-A-Thon sponsored by the St. Albert Kinsmen Club on Feb. 22 has produced $3,985.33 to go towards an artificial ice plant in the new St. Albert and District arena.

And the returns haven't finished coming in yet.

Bill Bishop, publicity chairman for the Kinsmen, said Tuesday night that it was estimated only about 50 per cent of the total value of the pledges had been received.

"We don't expect to get it all," he said. "But we are pretty sure we'll get a couple of thousand more."

The $3,985.33 figure was as compiled by the Bank of Nova Scotia at 6 p.m. Friday. Pledges should be turned into the bank before the end of this week.

Mr. Bishop urged all those who have not collected from their sponsors to do so, in order that the fund could be cleaned up as quickly as possible.

He said that after Friday, people who had not turned in any money would be contacted individually.

Candy stripers now training

Forty-five girls from St. Albert and district are presently taking training in the Candy Stripers' program organized by the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary.

And, says Mrs. Sheila Brumell, a registered nurse who is chairman of the candy stripers committee for the auxiliary, about 85 more are waiting in the wings.

Candy stripers are the teen-age volunteers who will be working in the Sturgeon Hospital after it opens this summer.

Classes started March 3 and now three are running, with 15 young girls in each. Instructors are Mrs. Kim Tomlin, Mrs. Marg Dolphin and Mrs. Cathy Weber.

A female motorist came tooting down a crowded thoroughfare and ran smack into a gentleman's brand new convertible. While they were untangling bumpers, the lady said grudgingly: "I'm afraid this was largely my fault."

"Nonsense," said the gentleman with a gallant bow. "I assure you the blame rests entirely with me. I saw you fully three blocks away and had ample time to dart down a side street."

Report from the Legislature

By Keith Everitt, MLA

The public hearings on Bill 135, The New School Act, are now completed and I am very pleased the opportunity was granted to the organizations of this province to make representations. Twenty-six briefs were presented and many good points were raised.

The Sturgeon Local of the Alberta Teacher's Association expressed a very genuine concern over the position they may be in if annexation becomes a reality. Edmonton school boards now credit an incoming teacher with only five years experience even though he or she may have taught for many years outside the city system.

The School Act will likely go back to caucus for a scrutiny of all sections that are contentious. However, we know one thing for sure everyone won't be satisfied.

I hesitate to use this column to criticize the action of any member of the legislature but to put it mildly, Dr. Hugh Horner has annoyed me with his article in this paper Feb. 25. My annoyance is, of course, due to the fact that he simply has not given a true statement. He says, and I quote:

"Back in 1968 the Social Credit government of Premier Manning decided they needed to get some more revenue and decided that the farmers should pay an additional amount."

"In spite of heated objection by the Conservative opposition and, indeed, the entire opposition at that time, the Social Crediters voted for this three cents a gallon to be applied on farm fuel."

"This, in spite of the fact that they stood before farm groups and said they were against it - they still went into the Legislature and on a recorded vote voted for the implementation of this tax." End of quote.

This statement casts a reflection upon myself and is an outright falsehood and I challenge Dr. Horner to present any evidence to support his statement that I, in 1968, stood up before any farm groups or individuals opposing the three cent gas tax. In fact I can produce articles I placed in the paper outlining the reasons we needed the tax.

I have represented this constituency of St. Albert for 10 years and there is one thing no one can accuse me of: saying one thing in an area and then doing just the opposite in the Legislature or in some other part of the constituency.

Let's take a look at the legislation that year, 1968, concerning tax on farm fuel. The government brought in legislation that spring, supported by all government members putting on a three cent tax. We must remember we as farmers had an outstanding crop in 1967; the right amount of moisture, no frost, with all crops harvested in good condition. I recall growing a crop of Conquest barley yielding 70 bushels an acre on peat land and with no signs of frost. If ever the farmers were in a position to assist financially to a little greater extent it was in the spring of 1968.

However, things soon changed; 1968 harvest was poor, much crop was not harvested and sales were bad. The Farmers' Union of Alberta asked us to remove the three cent tax on farm fuel. We took a new look at this legislation in 1969 because of the agricultural conditions and all government members agreed to rebate the three cents a gallon, instead of removing it.

The reason for this was because we felt that aircraft, railways and construction should still pay the three cents on purple gas, so we used the rebate system instead of removing it.

When we realize that the other users of purple fuel contribute approximately $6,000,000 to the general revenue of the province you can see our reluctance to take it off purple fuel altogether. Dr. Horner may be right when he says it costs $25,000 to administer this rebate, but don't forget it is doing away with a lot of the abuse of tax-free gas.

We are now looking for an application form which will not be nearly so complicated. I regret that Dr. Horner has to cast reflections, by falsehoods, as he endeavors to be the Conservative spokesman for agriculture.

While I am speaking on farm policies, I have to be honest in saying that I am far from enthusiastic about the recent federal government announcement about paying farmers not to produce. If I ever heard of a negative attitude, this must be it. The only encouraging part of their program is the fact that they will put some money in the pockets of some farmers, mostly in southern Alberta.

It would appear to me, without having given this study, that the same amount of money would have accomplished a lot more if the price of wheat could have been lowered to countries like Romania and make up the difference to the farmers in the payments of subsidies. Subsidies are not a negative method, such as payments not to produce are.

Namoo swimmer sets mile mark

Although he is eight years old, David Clark of Namoo School can swim a mile faster than any other child in Alberta 12 years old and under.

He set the record when he swam a mile in 24 minutes and 16 seconds recently in a swim-a-thon. He swam 20 lengths of a 25-yard pool nonstop.

By doing so he earned more than $200 for his group, the Blue Fins, who swim at the Edmonton West End YMCA.

Every morning of the year at 5:15 a.m. David leaves his home and travels nine miles to the pool. He gets back in time to catch the school bus at 8:15.

David started swimming

Council holds line on bonding policy

Council's policy regarding bonding requirements for developers operating in the town came under close scrutiny at Monday night's council meeting.

Despite opinions expressed by Mayor Ray Gibbon and some councillors that the original policy requiring developers to supply 100 per cent bond on all work undertaken, was meant only as a guideline, council voted 4-3 in favor of adhering to the original policy of the 100 per cent bonding requirement in the case of new developments.

The hour-long discussion on the bonding issue was triggered by the appearance before council of John Soprovich representing Grandin Park Developments.

Mr. Soprovich proposed to supply a $50,000 bond covering approximately $78,000 worth of work in Stage two of the development of West Grandin Park. A further $23,400 in servicing costs did not require to be bonded, according to Mr. Soprovich.

He explained that the water and sewer work (amounting to $43,655 of the $78,000 total) would be complete and paid for, under an agreement with Nu-West Homes Ltd. who have purchased 25 of the 34 lots involved, before the balance of the servicing work was undertaken in the spring. Thus the $50,000 bond would still be in effect to cover this additional work.

Councillor Rene Kam-bouroff stated that a standard policy had been laid down by council previously to cover this situation, it should be adhered to.

The difference in the cost of the developers supplying a $50,000 bond and a $100,000 bond, which would cover the entire cost of the work to be done, was established at $750.

Mayor Gibbon expressed concern that this cost would ultimately be shared by the people buying new homes built on these lots.

"The purchaser will probably bear the brunt of this," the mayor argued. He added that council had been "pretty tight on bonding requirements in the past."

A motion to the effect that the town accept nothing less than a 100 per cent bond was carried, however, and Mr. Soprovich was advised that his company would have to meet these requirements.

Council further voted in favor of providing Mr. Soprovich with an unsigned development agreement between Belvedere Developments Ltd. and Integrated Building Corp. Ltd. (the principles in Grandin Park Developments) and the Town of St. Albert, in order to facilitate his securing the required bond from the bonding company.

St. Albert Movers, the St. Albert Catholic Parish youth organization, will sponsor another share-lent march on Good Friday, March 27.

More than 300 youngsters will be bused to Morinville, where they will alight to make the return journey on foot.

Proceeds are to go toward the cost of sending students up north this summer to work among the Indians.

The buses will leave the St. Albert Parish Church at 9 a.m. and the March will start at 9:45.

"We are now passing the largest brewery in Milwaukee," exclaimed the tour guide.

"Not me," said the tourist as he hopped off the bus.

Movers planning share-lent march

There will be a soft drink counter set up seven miles from Morinville, selling at 10 cents a can. Marchers will be expected to provide their own lunches.

A free lunch will be served in the church basement at 2 p.m. Good Friday celebrations will be held in the church at 3 p.m.

After completing the march, sponsor sheets will be made valid with the St. Albert Parish Seal and the signature of Father Dusche-neau. Headquarters will be set up in the church basement.

Gov't eyes rural area for industry

The provincial government recognizes that there is increasing merit in decentralizing industry. Minister Ray Ratzlaff informed the annual meeting of the Edmonton Area Industrial Development Association in Morinville Friday. Concentration of industry in large cities brings mounting problems, the minister of industry and tourism said.

Studies have begun to determine how the province can best give assistance to smaller communities anxious to attract commercial and industrial development.

The minister commended the enterprise of smaller communities in going after such development, including the co-operative association

ELADA.

Deputy Minister Richard Martland spoke on the department's idea of using full time officers to assist communities in attracting both industry and tourists to their regions.

The Town of Morinville and Board of Trade arranged a well-planned agenda for close to 100 representatives attending the meeting. The Savings and Credit Union hosted a coffee period at 10 a.m. in advance of a tour of the town. Visitors were shown through the new George Vanier School, Craigs Manufacturing premises and the water treatment plant.

The Royal Bank tendered a reception followed by a luncheon given by the town. Mayor Art Stapleton chaired the luncheon and elaborated on the information presented in Morinville's new brochure, copies of which were given to all attending. The mayor also recognized Municipal District Sturgeon Councillor, Jack Harrold who was celebrating his 71 birthday.

Alex Graham Stewart, who served as Dominion Land Surveyor in the district for 50 years was in attendance. He was heard reminiscing to Neil Ross, of St. Albert Industrial Development Committee, on a technique used on a survey job to establish a parcel of Hudson Bay Company land. The corner peg was staked by the position of the sun at high noon.

At the close of the meeting Mayor Ray Gibbon extended an invitation to the association to hold their next meeting in St. Albert on June 5.

Proud mother: But even if Willie did misbehave, I can't spank him on a full stomach.
Neighbor: No, of course not, but you can always turn him over.

Teacher: Now Harriet, can you tell us what a panther is?
Harriet: A panther is a man who makes panths.

Increase won't cover health unit's deficit

The Sturgeon Health Unit, operating on an overdraft for most of this year, will probably face a $10,000 deficit by the end of this month.

This statement was made Tuesday by William Othuis, chairman of the board of health of the Sturgeon Health Unit, in response to comment from the Municipal District of Sturgeon that there had been a sharp increase in the per capita requisition for 1970-71.

Mr. Othuis said a study of the board's expenditures over the past years shows that between 1964 and 1966 there was a surplus which served to keep down the municipal requisition in 1967 to 1969.

However, in the last three years expenditures have exceeded income by a large amount.

He said the increase was from $2 to $2.75, a jump of 75 cents, not $1 as the story in The Gazette suggested.

It had jumped from $1.50 to $2 the previous year. Mr. Othuis said costs of supplies and administration had increased considerably in recent months, but the only new service which had been allowed for in the 1970-71 budget was the employment of one additional nurse.

"This is necessary," the statement said, to give the other nurses sufficient time to include in their programs continuing care for the ex-mental hospital patients who are being discharged in increasing numbers since the Blair report.

"It is a commitment which can hardly be avoided."

He said the board understands that the per capita rate of the Sturgeon Unit is among the lowest in the province and in its opinion represents good value for money spent.

"In 1969 - 70 there were six health units whose per capita rate exceeded $3 when the Sturgeon rate was $2," he said.

"In the early years of the health unit the provincial government provided 60 per cent of the budget, but now only contributes 42 per cent. This is in marked contrast to the 80 per cent subsidy for preventive and social services. The board has repeatedly made representations to the government on this issue.

The board has supported the concept of the regionalization of preventive health services, possibly involving integration with other health services. Under the original bill (#87) this would have transferred the main burden of finance to the province. New approaches which would achieve these objectives are now under consideration."

Mr. Othuis said the letters of concern from the Municipal District of Sturgeon and other municipalities about the requisition rate will be discussed at the next meeting of the board but it is doubtful whether any economies can be made without reducing services."

St. Albert High School will be hosting a badminton tournament on March 28 at Vital Grantin School.

Teams from Edmonton and Northern Alberta have been invited to compete. If the interest shown up to date is any indication of what one can expect, the tournament should be a great success.

Members of the St. Albert High School Ski Club, have been having a very busy season, the last club activity was a weekend trip to Marmot Basin in Jasper. By all reports, this was an extremely enjoyable trip.

The club has been to Rabbit Hill on several occasions and hope to have a day trip to Silver Summit in Edson in the near future.

Wildcats reach final

St. Albert Wildcats downed Fort Saskatchewan Lions twice last week to advance to the provincial midget zone 3 final.

Wildcats, who competed in the Highway 16 West League this winter, blanked Lions 3-0 at Mission Rink on Wednesday night, then followed up with a 5-1 win in Fort Saskatchewan on Friday.

Wildcats, sponsored by Wildcat Transport, will now meet Jasper in a two-game total-goal series at Jasper Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. The team will travel in the bus donated by Bud Berg of Berg's Location Clearing.

Raymond Gauthier was the big gun for Wildcats Friday night as he figured in all five goals, scoring four with two of them unassisted.

He scored twice in the first period to give Wildcats a 2-0 lead, helped on Doug Belcourt's tally in the second and then added another himself before the period ended. He finished things off with an unassisted tally in the third. Fort Saskatchewan took 10 of 15 penalties called.

It was the line of Mark Thompson, Gerald Longpre and Raymond Poulin that did the damage for Wildcats Wednesday. Thompson had two goals and an assist, Longpre a goal and two assists and Poulin two assists.

Wildcats got seven penalties and Fort Saskatchewan 10, including a misconduct.

Fish derby March 15

The St. Albert and District Fish and Game Association will hold an ice fishing derby from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday, March 15, at Lake Wabamun.

Entry forms are available from any member of the Association and also will be available at the pier on Seba Beach. Entry fees are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Prizes will be awarded for the largest and smallest whitefish and the largest and smallest jackfish.

For the uninitiated, what do you need for ice fishing?

Well, first an axe or ice auger (if you have one). You can use your rod and reel or just a hand held line and hook. Bait it with a little strip of bacon, a miniature marshmallow, a small piece of cheese, or whatever everyone else is catching them with on that day.

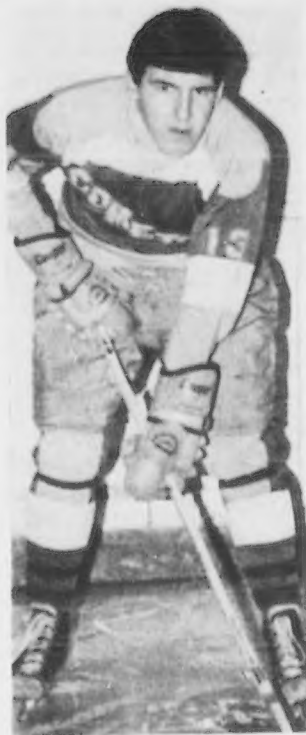

Dress warmly, and bring out the whole family. Ice fishing can be enjoyed by everyone.

Hot coffee and refreshments will be available at the pier as well as some bait.

Betty Harrison high jump champ

Betty Harrison of St. Albert set a new Alberta high jump record in the Lethbridge indoor open track and field meet at the weekend.

Betty, a 17-year-old Grade 11 student at Paul Kane High School, cleared the bar at the five-foot, six-inch mark, a record for the juvenile division.

Betty last spring added two inches onto the previous mark in junior girls' competition, reaching five feet, one inch.

The mark she set at Lethbridge is the third best in Canada in the juvenile division.

Betty, the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Elmer Harrison of 55 Garden Cres., has been training throughout the winter in the Kinsmen Field House with the Huskie Club of Edmonton.

She picked up a second place in Lethbridge as a member of the club's juvenile relay team.

On the strength of past performances, Betty was a known threat at the Lethbridge meet but the five-six mark had to come as a bit of a surprise. The best she had ever been able to do in practice was five-three.

It would seem to indicate, however, that the pressure of competition pushes her to her best.

Comets lose twice but retain lead

St. Albert Comets are finding out this week that a best-of-seven series can often mean just that, no matter how rosey things look at times.

Comets opened their Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League final playoff with Westlock Eagles with three straight victories and it looked like it was all over but the shouting.

But last Friday in Westlock Arena, the Eagles turned the tables on Comets and came up with an 8-3 victory. And they did it again Sunday, this time 6-1.

The two victories have caused no panic in Comets' ranks. They've come too far on too little to be panicked by a little misfortune at this stage of the game.

Still limping along with 11 players, Comets hoped to see Ron Yanosik back on defence Tuesday night for the sixth game.

Yanosik returned to the lineup eight days ago after recovering from an old shoulder injury that had been worked over again, then was put down by the flu bug and missed both weekend games.

Dave Joyal was also to dress last night but it is doubtful if his arthritic knee, on which he shouldn't be even skating, will allow him any ice time.

The Comets are at the stage, however, where even the walking wounded aid the cause when dressed.

Defenceman Gerry Magnan suited up Sunday night, his shoulder held together by several rolls of trainer Harry Pudlowski's tape.

"These guys are really hurting," team manager Jake Vangeols said Monday. "They shouldn't be dressing. We try to tell them not to but they won't listen. They'll do anything to help."

Comets, who have been operating with two lines for the last 12 years, were only in the Friday game for one period, trailing 1-0 at that point. Eagles rammed in four more in the second to make it 5-0 and the clubs halved six goals in the third.

Gary Hutnan scored five goals for Westlock, Wayne Rimmer, Chuck Keller and Bob Brown got the others.

Terry Dube, Dennis L'Hirondelle and Richie Perrault scored for Comets.

There were 31 penalties in the game, including game misconducts to Dan Vars and Fred Hesse of Comets and Wayne Rimmer of Westlock.

Westlock took a 3-1 first-period lead Sunday and held it through the second before pumping in three unanswered goals in the third.

Terry Rimmer, with two, Wayne Rimmer, Hutnan, Keller and Bob Wishloff scored for Westlock, Lou Martineau got his first goal of the season for Comets.

The game was much milder than the Friday affair with only 16 penalties called, Westlock collecting 10.

75 women bowlers enter tournament

St. Albert will send an A and B team to the Homemakers Bowling Tournament in Red Deer on Wednesday, March 18.

Seventy-five St. Albert women on 15 teams have been bowling for the past three weeks at Grandin Lanes for the right to make the trip.

The local roll-off was over a nine-game stretch. The Red Deer tournament will be of four games.

Members of the A team are Lorraine Nelson, Cathy Weber, Chris Chyzyk, Louise Hanson and Clemy Savole.

Members of the B team are Sylvia Glass, Helen McKinley, Pat Sturges, Lorraine McKinnon and Greta Zahara.

Red Wings collect 2nd championship

The St. Albert peewee champion Red Wings added the Sturgeon Cup to their trophy collection Sunday, defeating Dick's Plumbing 4-2 in the final of a double-knockout tournament held here on the weekend.

All seven St. Albert peewee teams—the others are Legion, Lions, Mustangs, Knights of Columbus and Fire Department—and one from Legal competed in the tournament which began on all four rinks Friday night.

Jim Wallin sank two slap shots to give Dick's a 2-0 first-period lead in the final, but Red Wings narrowed the count to 2-1 in the second and won it going away in the third.

Gary Ferguson scored twice for Red Wings and Gary Muzichuk and Scott Ratchinsky got the others.

Dick's, the winner of B event, would have had to defeat Red Wings two straight to win the championship, as Red Wings, coached by Ray Rix, had gone through A event undefeated, downing Lions, Legion and Legal.

Actually, a win for Dick's in the final would have been something of a storybook finish. When their coach was unable to enter the tournament because of other commitments, the players were given the opportunity to enter on their own.

With team Captain Gary Bruens doing the spadework, they anted up the $2 entry fee and enlisted the services of Maureen Boudreau, a phys-ed student at the University of Alberta and sister of one of the players, as coach.

Under Maureen who was assisted by another brother, Dennis, they dropped their first game 3-1 to Fire Department, then came back with wins over Mustangs, Lions and Fire Department to reach the final.

Natives plan 2nd tourney

A second all-Indian and Metis hockey tournament will be held in the Morinville Arena on Saturday and Sunday, March 21 and 22, sponsored by the Enoch Band Recreation Committee.

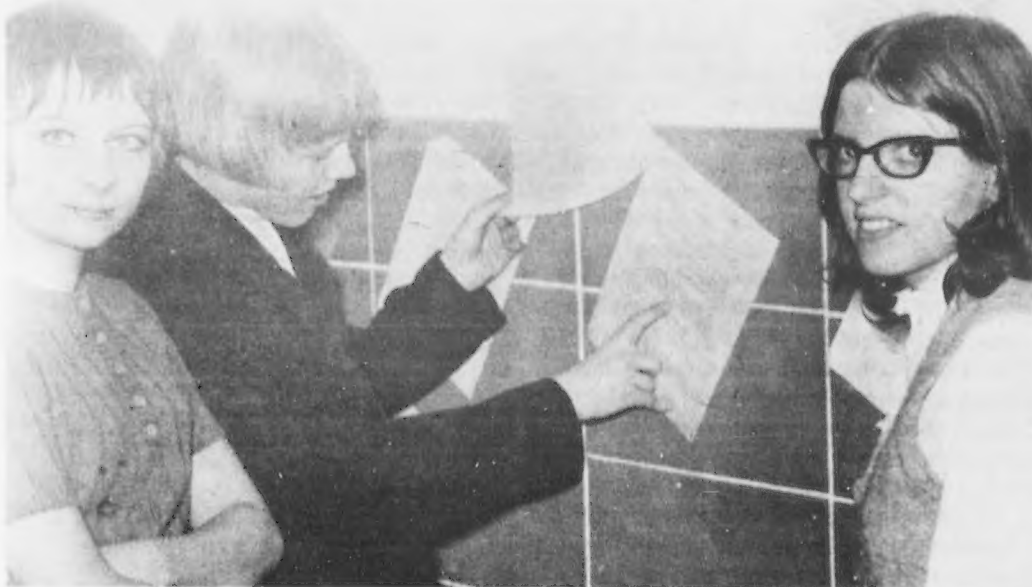

Teams entered will be Hobbema All-Stars, Winterburn Aces, Duffield, Winterburn Tomahawks, Alexander Braves, Edmonton Native Sons, Saddle Lake Warriors and Glenevis.

Prize money will be $300 for first place, $200 for second and $100 for both third and fourth.

A hockey tournament queen will be selected on Sunday. Candidates are Judy Gordon, Marilyn Morin, Pearl Cardinal, Yvonne Morin, Carol Morin and Darlene Peacock.

St. Albert career fair to be held on March 20

By W. D. Thomas,
Career Fair Publicity
Director.

St. Albert is exceedingly fortunate in being able to host one of the limited number of career fairs this year. On March 20, nearly 2,000 students from Grades 9 - 12 and many parents will be able to learn about future training and careers at St. Albert High School from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The idea of the career fair originated with Jack Flaherty of St. Albert, several years ago when he was with the guidance branch in the department of education. His work has been carried on and extended by Dr. Larry Ferguson, the present supervisor of guidance for Alberta.

The career fair is an educational undertaking by about 30 businesses, agencies, and training institutions to tell about vocational and training opportunities open to Albertans.

Parents as well as students are most welcome. A preliminary schedule is as follows:

1. Opening of the fair at 9 a.m. by Mayor Gibbon;
2. Students from St. Albert High 9 to 11 a.m.;
3. Students from Sturgeon School Division, Legal, Morinville, and Stony Plain 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.;
4. Students from St. Albert protestant separate schools 1 to 3 p.m.

Parents and visitors may come at any time between 9 and 3:30.

With the rapid changes in our society the need for training is becoming more important and the range of jobs continually expanding. (It has been said that half the children in school today will be working in the future at jobs that do not exist today.)

To take the information outside the urban areas is the task of the career fairs. This year the fairs have been held as far north as the Peace River country.

Much of the organizational work at the local level has been done by school administrators, guidance counsellors, teachers and students.

Town to retain seven tot lots

The fate of tot lots in St. Albert was decided by council Monday when five out of six recommendations made by finance committee, which had been studying the playgrounds, were approved.

Seven of the 10 open areas previously designated as tot lots are to be retained for their original purpose.

Benches are to be installed at Gordon, Springfield, Swallow, Grandora, Mural, Grandville-Gaylord and Greenview-Glenmore tot lots. Councillor Russell pointed out that five of these tot lots were without any benches and a number of phone calls and letters from mothers indicated that they were reluctant to take toddlers to the lots as there was no place for adults to sit while supervising small children.

Parks Superintendent John Beedle said that his department had realized the need for these benches and work was already under way on the project.

Council will recommend to the Kinsmen Club that they do not equip any further tot lots at this time until council has had a chance to review the over-all tot lot policy as development proceeds.

Lot 2, Balmoral Drive will be declassified as a tot lot due to the steepness of the lot and its proximity to the highway. Lots at Gillian and Cunningham will be reassessed when further develop-

Big game display at boat show

Edmonton's 1970 Boat, Trailer and Sport Show is going to bring the feel of big game hunting in Africa and Asia to the Exhibition Grounds in mid-April.

The show, rated as the Prairies' largest consumer show, will occupy the Sportex, The Gardens and the Sales Pavilion from Wednesday, April 15 through Sunday, April 19. Last year, the inaugural show attracted paid attendance of more than 93,000 in five days.

An elaborate Safari Life display has been arranged by the show's managing director, Robert O'Loughlin. It will include an outstanding collection of mounted African and Asian game animals, some of record size. The specimens, in lifelike poses, will be shown in a 100-foot-long panoramic scene created by display artists.

The animals and wild background will provide the setting for a daily Safari Fashion Show, showing what's "in" in outdoor wear. One of the models will be Teddi Smith, a luscious Playboy Playmate.

Among other feature attractions at the show will be gambling investigator Frank Garcia, "the man with the million dollar hands;" cartoonist Paul Burke, wood carver "Doc" Lawson and world-famous survival expert Tony Greenbank. In all, the show will highlight a dozen special attractions to delight visitors, both young and old.

Daily jog helps mid-aged man

Can doctors put their male patients on a jogging regime and expect them to show significant improvement in heart work output and pulse rate? The Medical Post says that based on a preliminary study done by Dr. Bernard I. Lewis, they can. He is chief investigator of the coronary prevention program at the Palo Alto Medical Clinic, near San Francisco.

He studied 25 volunteers, with a mean (near the average) age of 43, who jogged not more than 10 minutes a day for two months. In reporting on the results of his study, Dr. Lewis noted that most studies on the effect of jogging had been done on young athletes, military personnel or men "with definite cardiovascular disease."

He wanted to find out what this relatively mild exercise would do to the conditioning of the average middle-aged male who in North America tends to be overworked, overstressed, overfed and underexercised.

Each volunteer selected, after medical examination, was simply asked to map out a one-mile track somewhere near his home, preferably the nearest school track. Thirty-five were originally chosen for the two-month project. Ten threw in the towel within the first few weeks. No attempt was made to control the volunteer's eating, drinking or smoking habits. The only change in his ordinary living was the daily one-mile jog.

Here are the details of the results:

No significant weight change.

Decrease in body fat. Girth reduced by a mean of 1.7 Skinfold thickness showed a reduction of 21 per cent.

No significant changes in serum uric acid or cholesterol. A definite decrease in serum triglycerides. (Mean loss, 15 per cent).

Physical efficiency index showed an impressive 36 per cent improvement.

The work-output showed a mean improvement of 16 per cent.

Track time showed a mean reduction of three minutes, 28 seconds (28 per cent).

A car came to a stop in mid-town Manhattan, and the driver asked a man on the curb, "Say, where's 42nd Street?"

"I'm a pedestrian," the man replied. "I don't help automobiles!"

The trouble with good advice is that it usually upsets your plans.

"What do you call someone who can't keep his balance on the bus?"

"A Laplander."

Plans are at present being made for a camping and trailer show which will be held in Grandin Shoppers' Park early in May. So come to the meeting - and bring your ideas with you! Phone 599-8290 for further information about the local club.

SCOTTISH COUNTRY DANCING

Boys and girls of eight years of age and over will be welcome at lessons in Scottish Country Dancing which will be held in the Clubhouse (beside the swimming pool) on Saturdays from 5 - 6 p.m. starting next Saturday, March 14. Mrs. J. Bakker will be instructing and there is no charge for the lessons.

This was a very popular course last fall - particularly with boys - and anyone interested may phone Mrs. Bakker at 599-6225 for further information.

BOYS' SOCCER

Judging from the results of the registration for the Hercules Sports Association program, there are going to be more boys than ever playing soccer this year. This means, of course, that more coaches and assistant coaches will be required - especially for the 8 - 10 age group. Lloyd Hopkins, director of the Hercules Soccer Division, will be very pleased to hear from anyone who has the time and is interested in helping out with the soccer program. Phone him at 599-7887 or phone the department of recreation at 599-6601.

BASEBALL

Once again the St. Albert Lions Club and the Knights of Columbus are sponsoring the boys' baseball program, this time both bantam and Little Canadian, in St. Albert and two registration dates have been set: Saturday, March 14, from 10 - 12 noon and Wednesday, March 18, from 7 - 9 p.m. both registrations taking place in the Clubhouse. Forms are being distributed through the courtesy of the schools or may be picked up at the time of registration. The forms, along with the fee ($3 per boy) should be submitted at either of the times mentioned above.

The number of boys who want to play baseball is expected to be greater than last year and parents and older boys are asked to give some thought to helping out by coaching or umpiring.

The Editor:

I have been somewhat surprised that so little has appeared in your papers in the form of readers' comments with respect to Bill 35, - the new School Act, as it is commonly called.

Few of the populace must be unaware of strong controversy which this proposed legislation has engendered, and yet individuals seem content to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the boards of trustees with the courage to speak out, along with the executive committees of the various educational organizations throughout the province.

Add to this, the fact that any parent who has purchased student photographs from school has been reminded, on the envelope containing those photographs, that students are "Our Nation's Greatest Asset" and it appears all too obvious to me that these outspoken people and organizations are in dire need of public support.

I can only presume that the average elector believes that the points of conflict are ones which can be dealt with adequately by the trustees whom he has elected to care for education on his behalf. This, however, is not so.

Quality education is the backbone of our economy. To use a cliché, it is an investment in the future, for all citizens, whether they have children at school or not, and we must be prepared to pay for it. The present proposal for control of expenditure - the calling for a plebiscite on supplementary requisitions that show an increase of more than six per cent - cannot have any other effect but that of causing cut-backs in education, with consequent reduction in quality.

Lest I be accused of stressing one point of view in personal preference to another, I must state that I am a taxpayer, a parent and an educator. In the first role, I have no wish to be constantly squeezed for more tax payment each year. However, in the other roles I can see no realistic alternative to recognizing that education must be allowed to expand and improve as the requirements of our modern society constantly demand. Where lies the answer which will be acceptable to all three roles?

Much of the answer is to be found by questioning the wisdom of a philosophy which continues to believe that such a vital public investment as education can be made so reliant on one single source of taxation - property tax.

Under the new Foundation Program schedule, 60 per cent of the educational financing will come from general provincial revenue, 30 per cent from the provincial property tax levy of 30 mills, and 10 per cent from local property tax (the supplementary levy).

The decision of the minister to so arrange is indirect opposition to strong recommendations from his own committee on school finance, which reported on Oct. 1,

It would indeed be well for all public libraries to attempt to have a copy of this available to the public for reference. Were I to quote, all the relevant sections, I would be quoting much of the report, for throughout runs the strong advice that "drawing from a wide variety of revenue sources tends to distribute the burden of support more evenly among the province's citizens."

Accordingly, any plan should strive to achieve a redistribution of levies, thereby lessening the demand on any single source of revenue (page 6, para 2). Basically, therefore, do not rely on property tax. It cannot sustain our present rate of necessary growth.

The minister, however, retains the property tax levy and proposes legislation to limit the growth of expenditure. As it is proposed to the elector, necessary excess - over and above a probable six per cent limit - will not be curtailed, for the elector will vote for any justifiable expenditure.

This is a fundamentally false presumption. It has been said that we in Canada are fortunate in being able to evaluate the merits of educational schemes tried in the United States, without having to spend precious funds on pilot projects, etc., of our own. Many areas in the United States have conducted plebiscites on school spending, with disastrous results to the quality of education.

It is not even necessary to look to the south. Our immediate neighboring province to the west has made the tragic mistake of looking for votes by allowing the elector, with his very limited view of the effect on his own local taxes, to decide what financial limits will be placed on education.

Comets lose, series tied

St. Albert Comets one short week ago seemed to have the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey Championship securely in their hands, leading Westlock Eagles 3 - 0 in the best of seven final series.

Since then, however, the title has been slowly slipping from their grasp and Friday at 8:30 in Westlock they will meet Eagles in the deciding game.

Comets, defending champions, dropped their third were two of seven districts in which plebiscites were defeated last spring. The effects are now becoming more obvious to the electors. The morale of the teaching staffs has been seriously damaged. There is uncertainty about the support that will be afforded mid - and long - range planning, so that there is little encouragement to do more than work from year to year.

Teaching forces have been reduced; teacher aides have been reduced or eliminated; increases in teaching supplies budgets have been cancelled; custodial staff has been reduced; secondary school library services have been reduced; all this despite increase in enrolments.

Electors in Alberta are now being sold an idea that will inflict the same serious blows on their educational system. The best way to have electors buy such a scheme is to threaten the pocket of the property taxpayer and hope that they will not look further.

Unless the electors are prepared to accept and enjoy such a situation, it behooves each and every one to make a noise about it now. Also, do not take for granted the facts as quoted above. Several local boards have already warned of possible effects of this legislation. Make certain that your own board's position is known to you.

Find out how your child will suffer, or how your business will ultimately suffer for want of quality education among its employees. In short, make yourself more aware of what is happening and may happen; get into action now. Don't leave it to your neighbor; he may be leaving it to you!

News from Calahoo

By Mrs. Peter McLeod

The 110th meeting of Calahoo Women's Institute was held Feb. 25 in the afternoon at the home of President Mrs. K. Mary Dalheim, with all 11 members and two new ones present.

Mrs. John Carty and Mrs. Victor Albrecht were welcomed to the group.

We also welcomed our constituency convener, Mrs. J. Vera Holt from Sangudo to the 11th anniversary meeting. Three members, Mr. C. Bergstreiser, Mrs. F. Lischewski and Mrs. P. McLeod have perfect attendance records for the 11 years.

Mrs. Mary Dalheim received the silver spoon with WI crest on it for five years regular attendance.

Mrs. H. Joyce Bergstreiser received a WI cup and saucer for two years perfect attendance.

The hostess read a letter from Mr. Menor in which he thanked the WI for the money sent to them as a Christmas gift. This leper family in the Philippines is very poor and really were overjoyed with the money so they could eat a satisfying meal. After Joyce read the minutes of the last meeting and Alice Schmermund gave her treasurer's report we had a discussion on what to do to raise some money for the Provincial Office Fund. It was decided to have a bingo and Italian Raffle on April 1st at Calahoo. This will be a cash bingo. Alice and Cecile will take care of getting the items for the raffle and the donuts for the free lunch. Elsa Lischewski and Toni Christen will serve the donuts and coffee and Liz will make the posters.

It was this group's pleasure to have their constituency convener, Mrs. J. Vera Holt speak. Mrs. Holt told us of the workshop she attended in February in Edmonton. They discussed structural changes, how they would effect the number of districts, the constituency and the branches.

The Walter Worth report on education was studied. It was advised to work with native people where ever possible.

Mrs. Holt has obtained the services of another member of the Cultural Development Branch in Edmonton who will judge the poems and short stories at the conference, May 6 at Winterburn this year. His name is John Patrick Gilese. Anyone interested in cultural development can write to this address for information:

Walter Cassa, Cultural Development Branch, Department of the Provincial Secretary, 504 Financial Bldg. Edmonton, Alta.

Our group received an invitation to visit Mrs. Holt's branch in Sangudo on March 26 in the afternoon and will be shown how to do drawn thread work by our capable Home Economist Mrs. Pat Prymak who will be their guest speaker.

Cecile Berry won the door prize, a cute novelty pin cushion brought by Emella Schmermund.

Fellow members and our visitor Mrs. J. Priscilla Schafers sang Happy Birthday to Liz McLeod and after the friendly visiting Mrs. Holt was taken to Onoway to board the bus and all went home feeling this had been a most enjoyable day.

The March meeting will be held in Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergstreiser's new home on the fourth Tuesday evening. Roll call will be: Make and wear an Easter bonnet or make painted Easter eggs or both.

On Feb. 28, the Legal High School girls were host for the Northern Central Alberta High School Athletic Association Basketball zone tournament. For the first time in its history, our girls team is participating in the provincial championships. Congratulations to the club.

Some 30 couples from Legal and Vimy enjoyed a fruitful evening at the Star of the North Retreat House for a Twilight Retreat recently.

All the men are invited to attend the special all day program organized for them.

All those interested in going should contact Mrs. Maurier, phone 598-2515 or 598-2513, before March 15. She also reminded the ladies that their would be a pre-Easter bake sale on March 28. Wildlife director addresses students

Students at Paul Kane High School who are involved in a major study of the causes and effects of pollution in the Edmonton and St. Albert areas, were told last week by a government official that their findings could prove significant and if so, should not be overlooked because the research was done by teen-agers instead of adults.

Dr. S. B. Smith, director of fish and wildlife for the Province of Alberta commended the Grade 11 social studies and biology students for undertaking the project and urged them to be extremely careful in their approach.

"If you are going to have something meaningful to say to the community around you - to the people of St. Albert and Edmonton, you should understand that you will have to insist on high quality in your research," said Dr. Smith.

"Don't make statements that you can't back up. Look for base lines. Find out what is the base line for clean air, for clean water, for soil tolerable for use in agriculture, for beauty in the environment."

He also advised the students to make their studies as extensive as they can, making use of all the material they can possibly gather.

Explaining the difficulty of defining pollution, Dr. Smith pointed out that what might appear to be pollution to someone like himself could be considered as a necessary side product of industry to the person or company causing the pollution.

Among the pollution problems he discussed were flare pits in use by oil companies where the burning-off process pollutes the air; discharge from pulp mills such as the one at Hinton, Alberta, which pollutes both air and water; soil pollution caused by chemically treated grain; the devastation to land caused by strip mining operations and the esthetic pollution problems posed by auto wrecking lots, junk yards and abandoned buildings.

Although he stated that he was not very proud of the record that he and his colleagues, as professionals, had in the control of pollution, Dr. Smith outlined some government statutes presently in effect for this purpose which he felt the students would want to study as part of their research into the problem.

These included the Fisheries Act of Canada, the Migratory Bird Act, The Oil and Gas Conservation Act, the Public Lands Act and the Forest Act. Dr. Smith stated that while prosecutions under these acts are being made, more such prosecutions would be a good thing. They have the effect of alerting industry to the problems of pollution.

Dr. Smith stated that while all of these acts provide protective measures for all elements of our environment, much more work in the area is required.

He cited as two reasons for the country's present pollution problems, inertia on the part of civil servants and lack of funds for pollution control and research.

Many incentives are offered to industry to help them in the expense of controlling pollution, Dr. Smith explained, and in most cases industry is finding it is cheaper to do things the right way. Savings of many millions of dollars have been made by companies who have converted waste products which were formerly pollutants, to some useful purpose.

A lively question and answer period following Dr. Smith's address proved that the students had been doing their homework -- or field work.

Discussion ranged from the effects of thermal generating plants on river water, effects of DDT on plant, animal and human life, phosphates, research into exhaust system devices for lessening air pollution, to the effects of dumping snow mixed with sand and salt onto frozen rivers such as the Sturgeon. In reply to the last question, Dr. Smith stated that it would be difficult to assess the effect without knowing the volumes involved, but he felt such a practice could make the river bed unsuitable to sustain certain species of plant life.

In answering students' questions, Dr. Smith pointed out that more detailed answers would be available from various government departments and agencies and volunteered his assistance in directing students to the proper authorities.

"Always in better circles"

Health unit offers varied services

by Lois Bridges

The theme of this year's National Health Week, March 8 to 14 -- "Prevent sickness - Promote health - Prolong life" -- could very well double as a year-round slogan for the Sturgeon Health Unit.

Preserving and promoting the health of over 54,000 individuals living in an area of more than 5,000 square miles sounds like a pretty tall order -- but it's the task that's being undertaken this year by the unit.

The area served by the Sturgeon Health unit increased by almost 2,000 square miles in September of 1969 when the Village of Fort Assiniboine and the Town of Swan Hills, along with the surrounding improvement districts, became the responsibility of the unit.

Director of the health unit and Medical Officer of Health for each of the constituent municipalities, Dr. J. M. Howell and his staff of 21 now share responsibility for providing preventive health services for an area which covers 5,600 square miles.

"The good medical services and facilities throughout the area make the work of the health unit much easier," said Dr. Howell. "Compared with other parts of the province, the area has excellent health services." He added that the opening of the Sturgeon General Hospital this summer would further improve facilities.

A local government service formed by the various municipalities, towns and villages of the area and assisted by the Province, the Sturgeon Health Unit is administered by a six-member Board of Health. The members come from each of the six wards that make up the health unit -- St. Albert, the Municipal Districts of Westlock and Sturgeon, the Counties of Barrhead and Thorhild and the Town of Swan Hills.

With the exception of a sub-office in Westlock, which serves as headquarters for four nurses, a public health inspector and a stenographer, all personnel work out of the main office at 14 Perron Street in St. Albert.

In addition, three "mini-offices" have been set up in Thorhild, Barrhead and Swan Hills for the use of staff members on their regular visits.

The Sturgeon Health Unit was established in the early 1950s with the office located in Legal. This was subsequently moved to the Beverley area and, seven years ago, was established in its present premises in St. Albert.

Dr. Howell has served as director for the past three years. In addition, he holds the post of assistant clinical professor in the department of community medicine at the University of Alberta.

The most pressing problem facing the health unit at this time -- and one that is shared by all other health units in the province, according to Dr. Howell -- is a financial one, the problem of providing adequate preventive health services in the face of rising costs.

In explaining the financial set-up under which the unit operates, Dr. Howell said: "The Board of Health sets a budget and the provincial government provides three types of grants -- a general per capita grant, a grant for dental services and they may also provide a supplementary grant."

"In the past year, these grants added up to 40% of the total budget."

"The remainder has to be requisitioned from the municipalities involved, according to the number of population."

For next year a per capita figure of $2.75 has been requisitioned.

"This is quite low in comparison with other health units," Dr. Howell stated, adding that one of the major items in the budget is salaries.

Staff requirements are expected to remain much the same as last year although one additional nurse will take up duties with the unit on April 1.

This has been necessitated by a new service instituted at the beginning of the year. A follow-up program for psychiatric patients has been undertaken in co-operation with the Alberta Hospital at Oliver. The service provides for a nurse to visit the patient's home after he has been admitted to hospital, in order to counsel family members. The nurse makes periodic visits to the patient in hospital and after his discharge, makes home visits to provide continuing supervision and aid rehabilitation.

The addition of one registered nurse is designed to relieve nurses already on staff of a portion of their present duties in order to free time for work in this new program.

A survey conducted in the area last year by two medical students revealed that, of the dozen or so services offered to the community by the health unit, most people were unable to name more than two or three. In an effort to acquaint people with all functions of the unit, an informative brochure was mailed out to residents of the participating towns and municipalities.

In addition to the better-known functions such as well baby and immunization clinics and school health services, the following preventive health services are also provided:

A home visiting service is provided for newborn babies as well as follow-up visits on various school and mental health problems. Close to 1800 home visits were made by staff members during 1969.

In this connection Dr. Howell pointed out that although there are occasional requests for nurses to visit homes in cases of suspected illness, this is not a service provided by the health unit.

"The family's physician should be contacted," Dr. Howell stated, "as our nurses do not make home visits to give diagnoses."

Screening clinics designed to assess pre-schoolers and prepare them for school entry have been operating since Jan. 1969. At present, four-year olds in and near St. Albert and Westlock are invited to take advantage of this special check-up which includes tests of vision, hearing, vocabulary, speech and general development.

A dental examination and topical fluoride application are included. It is hoped that

MRS. LORRAINE WEAVER TESTS
...four-year-old Rodney Storeshenko's hearing this service will shortly be available in additional areas, as, with staff training now completed, assessment and counselling (with the exception of the dental part of the program) can be carried out by one nurse.

Dental health services are provided by a staff of two dental hygienists and a dental assistant under the direction of Dental Health Officer Dr. M. A. Abramson. Programs are under way with pre-school children, schoolchildren and the aged.

Diet analysis and counselling, treatment of patients referred by private practitioners because of a high caries rate, and establishment of seminars for practicing dentists, dealing with preventive procedures, are among the services offered by the department.

Two public health inspectors have responsibility for providing inspection services and advice in the areas of food and water processing and supply, sewage and refuse removal, anti-pollution measures and sanitation in swimming pools, institutions, accommodations and eating places.

The unit carries on a program of supervision of health programs particularly in the areas of rheumatic fever, tuberculosis and problems of handicapped persons.

Information and education on health-related subjects are provided by the unit through films, talks and pamphlets.

Adult immunization against poliomyelitis and tetanus is provided as well as immunization to meet international travel requirements.

In addition to the follow-up services for psychiatric patients, work in other areas of mental health includes assessments of behavior problems, referrals to guidance clinics and educational programs in mental health.

Work with the aged is a concern shared by both medical and dental departments of the unit. Dr. Howell stated that a program of home visits to aged persons was begun last summer but efforts in this direction have been somewhat hampered by lack of census information in some areas.

In order to keep up to date on developments in their particular fields of interest, one or more staff members attended a total of 15 courses and workshops during 1969.

A number of special projects and surveys -- such as the four-year old screening clinic begun last year -- are undertaken from time to time.

One such project was a multiphasic screening clinic for adults established in the county of Thorhild during a two-week period in the spring of 1968. A total of 1332 persons, about one-third of the total adult population of the area, attended the clinic. Each person underwent a series of 23 tests, resulting in 321 persons being referred to their family physicians.

Following publication of an article, describing the screening process and results, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal, there has been widespread interest, with requests still coming in from many countries for reprints and further information.

A survey is under way to investigate agricultural accidents in this area. This is being carried out in conjunction with the hospitals and physicians in Westlock and Barrhead and will continue through 1970.

With the steadily increasing activity of the health unit, the 3,000 square feet of second-floor office and clinic space occupied by the unit, is becoming more and more cramped, with most offices serving at least a dual purpose. Lack of space is particularly evident in the dental health department where the dental health officer, two hygienists and an assistant all share the one office which also serves as an examining room.

"Health units are not allowed to own property," said Dr. Howell, explaining that renting adequate office and clinic space to keep up with growing needs, was difficult within the financial framework of the unit.

Indicating the shortage of waiting room space for those attending clinics, Dr. Howell pointed out that line-ups had to be avoided so clinics are conducted on an appointment only basis.

The unit's nine public health nurses are under the supervision of Mrs. G. Law, supervisor of nursing.

Each nurse working out of the St. Albert office is responsible for a "wedge" of territory that starts at the health unit office, takes in a certain portion of the town of St. Albert, including the schools in that district (usually two schools per nurse) and spreads out to include all villages and rural areas contained within her territory. In addition to providing the various health unit services, she is school nurse to all schools in her area.

"The nurses operate within a set program of responsibility," said Dr. Howell, "although each nurse has a certain amount of freedom to plan the day-to-day operation in her particular territory."

Regular weekly immunization and pre-school clinics are held in the St. Albert office from 9 a.m. to 12 noon, 1 p.m. to 4:30 and 6 to 8 p.m. on the first Thursday of every month. On the second, third, fourth and fifth Thursday's, clinic hours are 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 to 4:30 p.m. Residents of the area are reminded that appointments are required.

Further information regarding any of the Sturgeon Health Unit's programs may be obtained by phoning 599-6671, St. Albert or 342-3316.

Les Femmes Chretiennes sponsoring talent shows

To give parents and the community an opportunity to see and hear for themselves the progress Morinville children have made in the field of entertainment, Les Femmes Chretiennes (Christian Ladies) are sponsoring two talent nights in the gymnasium at the George Vanier School.

On May 1 piano recitals will be heard and also the choirs which will take part in the Kiwanis Festival, directed by George Lavalles. Proceeds will go to the Ricard Trust Fund.

The second talent night will take place in the school gymnasium on May 15. Students receiving lessons in all instruments other than piano will perform. Dancing will be included, and it is expected the Morinville Drum and Bugle Band will also perform.

He: We'll just have to skip the winter vacation. The account is badly overdrawn now.

She: Why don't you smarten up and use a bank that has more money?

The girl's father regarded the long-haired youth who had come over to spend the evening.

"Tell me, son," he said finally, "is that your own hair -- or are you travelling under an assumed name?"

Mother (proudly watching her two-year-old son): "He's been walking like that for almost a year."

Bored Visitor: "Amazing. Can't you get him to sit down?"

Proceeds from this night's entertainment will go for work being done within the community, and will be known as Help Thy Neighbor Fund.

It was education week last week and as a special feature, Father Jan had a crew in from St. Albert High School to video-tape some of their happenings. Above the television camera catches students at work.

The Gazette camera caught Luc Lefebvre (left) and Marvin Soetaert busy creating in their Grade 4 art class. Free babysitting was provided for parents who took advantage of the open house.

Sturgeon teachers' brief to legislature

The following is from the brief the Sturgeon Local No. 27 of the Alberta Teachers Association presented to the legislature with regards to Bill 35, the New School Act.

We respectfully submit that several sections of Bill 35, should it become law in its present state, would constitute retrograde steps. Specifically we would draw attention to two of these areas, which are likely to affect teachers of the Sturgeon local.

The present School Act provides certain protection to teachers in an area affected by transfer of lands. The transfer of land regulation is provided for by Bill 35, but no provision for teachers affected by the implementation of this section appears in the Bill.

Of seven schools in the Sturgeon School Divisional area, no less than three are directly threatened by the possibility of annexation of all or large parts of their respective attendance areas.

Teachers in these schools are presently rendering excellent service, but are becoming increasingly concerned that, by an action on the part of authorities which have no jurisdiction in the educational field, they may be displaced despite the fact that their present students will continue to require teachers.

The individuals who will be affected are largely highly qualified and experienced teachers who have devoted many years of loyal service to rural education. Their option at present is:

1. To leave their present posts at the earliest opportunity and accept employment in an area where there is little or no danger of displacement; or

2. To await displacement and attempt to enter the annexing jurisdiction, suffering in consequence a financial and positional loss.

If alternative (1) is followed, all students in the rural area suffer now. If (2), the displaced teacher suffers disruption, which can only have an adverse effect on his family, pupils and community. To avoid such a situation we respectfully request that the proposed Act contain the relative substance of section 359(4) of the present Act, together with an additional provision for the similar transfer of teachers who would find themselves deprived of students because, although their actual school buildings are not included in the annexation the attendance area of that school is reduced thereby.

The second area of concern to which we wish to draw attention is the absence of a definition of the term 'teacher'. At Calgary and Red Deer, the chairman of the Committee for Rewriting The School Act commented on the absence of a definition of the term 'to teach' and presented a good reason for same.

It is our belief, however, that the term 'teacher' should be defined clearly for the purpose of legislation. Without definition, certain qualified persons who are presently performing the tasks of teachers might well find themselves deprived of some of the rights of a teacher or, at best, find themselves in a nebulous area when matters of legislation are involved.

To this possibility should be added the implications of the trend to employ ancillary staff who, although not teachers, are involved in the teaching process.

Such personnel will become increasingly vital to the developing educational process in the approaching years, but we should take care that their employment does not cause eventual dilution of the teaching profession, as has been the case in other countries.

We therefore respectfully submit that, within the Act, a teacher be defined as a person who is appointed to a post, with a school authority -- other than as a superintendent -- for which a current Alberta teaching certificate is required.

It is our belief that you have heard or will hear of many matters of concern caused by the introduction of this Bill and we would hope that the House may see fit to delay final approval of the Bill until such times as far more comprehensive discussion has been held between all parties concerned.

Temporary withdrawal of Bill 35 will have little effect on the future quality of education in this province. Passage of Bill 35 without meticulous perusal and evaluation may have a detrimental effect which would seriously inhibit our present enviable rate of progress in education.
